THERGIAKIS EFTICHIOS

Web Developer

Location: Crete, Greece	Email: iamtheef_th@protonmail.com
Nationality: Greek	Phone: +30 6980970012

PROFILE

A resourceful and self-motivated web developer, who is hard working and a quick learner. I possess strong work ethics and I am flexible as well as team orientated. I am currently seeking for an engineering role where my existing expertise and qualifications will add value to the outset, whilst I continue to further develop my skills and knowledge in the software engineering sector. I am quite humorous and I like people who smile and are open. Generally I like solving puzzles and I think programming is just a more elegant and professional way of solving problems. I like electronic music and I try to produce when I have some spare time.

EXPERIENCE

I have been a freelancer for two years, mainly working on projects of my own and occasionally helping on third-party projects and/or contributing to open source projects. You can find more info on my github: https://github.com/iamtheef
